Booked event activities have priority usage rights at Champion Lakes Regatta Centre

Champion Lakes Regatta Centre is a regional sporting venue and both the water body and surrounding pathways are utilised for competitive event activities. As both competitors and the public have access to pathways and the waterbody there is a risk to all competitors colliding with recreational craft or cycles. It is imperative that paddling craft utilise Champion Lakes Regatta Centre Craft Flow Plan whilst on the lake for training or recreational use to minimise the risk of collision. For pedestrians and cyclists, users are requested to keep left at all times and to be aware of major junctions, such as where the event path crosses Henley Drive near the Public Toilets and where crossovers have been provided to link the paths with roads. For booked events, organisers will determine their own flow plan and method to control access for recreational users of the lake and pathways.

Champion Lakes Regatta Centre's waterbody is monitored to ensure conditions meet health guidelines for recreational water activities. Visitors must adhere to "Lake Closed" signage when displayed.
